
REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT DIALOGUE

RDD

Vol. 20, No. 1, Spring 1999

POVERTY ALLEVIATION AND REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT

EDITORIAL INTRODUCTION

Emiel A. Wegelin Editorial Introduction iii

ARTICLES

Mary Racelis Cities for Twenty-First Century People:
A Regional Perspective on Urban Poverty in Asia 1

Comments: Diana Mitlin 16
 Monique Peltenburg and
 Joop W. de Wit 18

Emiel A. Wegelin Urban Poverty and Local Actions towards
Its Reduction: An International Perspective 20

Comment: Kadmiel H. Wekwete 35

Kadmiel H. Wekwete Mainstreaming Urban Poverty Reduction in Sub-Saharan Africa 37

Comment: Peter M. Ngau 52

Bijayanand Misra Are We Overestimating the Possible Role of the Private Sector in Rural Poverty Alleviation?
An Analysis of the Indian Situation and Experience 55

Comments: Dinesh Mehta 73
 Devyani Mani 76

Elenore A. Cousart	Poverty Alleviation in the Philippines: The Social Reform Agenda and the Role of the Private Sector	79
	Comments: Wilfredo B. Carada	96
	A. H. J. Helmsing	98
Wang Huijiong	Urban Poverty Alleviation and Development: The Chinese Experience	100
	Comments: Jermain T. M. Lam	118
	Cedric Pugh	119
Utis Kaothien and Douglas Webster	The Role of the Private Sector in Promoting Balanced Regional Development: The Thailand Case	120
	Comment: Hans Detlef Kammeier	140
Paul A. Barter	Transport and Urban Poverty in Asia: A Brief Introduction to the Key Issues	143
	Comments: Michael J. G. Parnwell	164
	Harry Dimitriou	166
Arif Hasan	The Informal City	168
	Comments: A. T. M. Nurul Amin	184
	Forbes Davidson and Monique Peltenburg	186
	Contributors	189