

REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT DIALOGUE

RDD

Vol. 30, No. 1, Spring 2009

GENDER AND DISASTER MANAGEMENT

EDITORIAL INTRODUCTION

Maureen Fordham	Gendering Disaster Risk Reduction: Global and Regional Contexts	iii
-----------------	---	-----

ARTICLES

Carolyn Hannan	Mainstreaming Gender Perspectives in Natural Disaster Management	1
	Comment: Marion Pratt and Sezin Tokar	12
Kristinne Sanz et al.	From the Inside Out: Reflections on Gendering Disaster Risk Reduction	14
	Comment: Elaine Enarson	22
Shoichi Ando	Regional Disaster Management and the Gender Perspective of UNCRD	24
	Comment: Rajib Shaw	35
Yoko Saito	Gender Mainstreaming into Community-based Disaster Management in the Context of Regional Development	37
	Comment: Lesley Abdela	47

---

Brenda D. Phillips	Engendering Disaster Risk Reduction: A North American Perspective	52
	Comment: Stuart Katwikirize	61
Yukiko Takeuchi and Rajib Shaw	Gender Dimensions in Risk Communication: A Perspective from a Sediment Disaster in Hiroshima, Japan	63
	Comment: Manori Gunatilleke	76
Rosalind Houghton	Domestic Violence Reporting and Disasters in New Zealand	79
	Comment: Robyn Betts	91
Chaman Pincha and N. Hari Krishna	Post-Disaster Death Ex Gratia Payments and Their Gendered Impact	95
	Comment: Anna Dimitrijevic	106
Nibedita S. Ray-Bennett	Coping with Multiple Disasters and Diminishing Livelihood Resources — Caste, Class, and Gender Perspectives: The Case From Orissa, India	108
	Comment: Supriya Akerkar	121
Sarah Bradshaw	Engendering Disasters: Feminization of Response or a Feminization of Responsibility?	123
	Comment: Cheryl L. Anderson	132
	Contributors	134